Of Things Hawaiian-Cadet John S. Doddridge, of the United States War Ship Philadelphia, Having an Erjoyable Time on His Long Cruise in the Pacific-His Readable Account of it All,

Cadet John S. Doddridge, who is now on the United States War Ship Philadelphia, has written to his father a most interesting letter, giving some account of what he has seen and where he has been. He writes from the Hawaiian Islands, and a letter from there must at this time have special inpermitted to print the following interesting extracts from it:

The mail steamer leaves to-morrow for San Francisco, so that I will be able to give you the news up to date. We left Callao, Peru, August 26th, and after an uneventiul passage we arrived here September 13th. During the entire run from Callao to Honolulu we never sighted a sail. The distance from Callao to Honolulu server sighted a sail. lulu we never sighted a sail. The distance from Callao to Honolulu is 5,200 miles. We made the run at an average speed of twelve knots. We first sighted the island of Hawaii on which are two lofty mountains, Manna Loa and Manna Kea, each of them about 1,300 feet high. Manna Loa is an extinct volcano. Hawaii has an area of about 4,000 square miles. North of that is the island of Mani, on which are a great many sugar plantations. It rises to a height of 10,000 feet above the water. The next island is that of Molokai, the leper island. Here all the lepers live; they have several settlements. The lepers are brought to Molokai from the other islands, and here they are obliged to stay until they die. The natives are gradually dying out, there being but 30,000 of them left, while in the time of Captain Cook they numbered 200,000. Honolulu is beautifully situated on the Island of Oahu (wa hoo). Oahu has an area of 600 source miles and is a very tance from Callao to Honolulu is 5,200 Island of Oahu (wa hoo). Oahu has an area of 600 square miles and is a very fertile spot. Honolulu is a beautiful place. The streets are very clean and all the houses are surrounded by large nams and beautiful trees. Honolulu has a very extensive street car system. The climate is delightful, there is little difference between summer and winter. Spgar cane' grows here to a remarkable size. While sugar is the principal artilawns and beautiful trees. Honolulu size. While sugar is the principal article of export, rice and coffee have recently been planted and have proved to be a great success. Honolata has a population of about 25,000 inhabitants. There are a great many continuous and the succession of the success. population of about 25,000 inhabitants. There are a great many Chinamen and Japs here, probably 5,000 in Honolulu itsell, while altogether there must be 15,000 of them in the islands. There are about 15,000 natives in Honolulu; minay of them are well educated. The rest of the inhabitants are Americans and Englishmen. The Americans number probably between 3,000 and 4,000 in the city. They are the ruling element, and have complete control of the government. I find that a great many Americans have come to the island since the overthrow of the queen. All the government officers are Americans. The United States flags are more numerous than the Hawaiian. A great many private houses have flag staffs, from which flies the American flag. The people are very bitter on the subject of politics. They are divided into two factions, the Royalists and the Annexationists. I have no politics vet.

I enclose an account of the ball that I attended last night. During the evening I met the President's wife, the chief justice and a few other high government officials. I met quite a number of young ladies. The hospitality of the people is something unusual. I have been invited out at first acquaintance often. Several gentlemen have called aboard ship and invited us to call on their families. John S. Doddens.

THE PETTICORDS DETAINED.

They Will Resume Their Long Wheel Trip This Morning.

Miss Amelia Petticord, who with her brother, Charles Petticord, is making the trip a-wheelback to the World's Fair from Pittsburgh, were detained in Wheeling yesterday on account of the rain the night before, which made the roads west of here unfit for pleasant wheeling. This morning, however, they expect to resume their long wheel jour expect to resume their long wheel purney, and to make up the lost

The marks last evening showed 22 inches in the channel and slowly rising. The C. II. Woods will be to-day's Matamoras packet. She is scheduled to depart at 11:30 a. m.

Reports received at the wharf boat yesterday show that it is raining at nearly all headwater points. This encourages the belief that there may soon be at least a fair boating stage, though many do not expect it until late in November.

Headwater reports reports received last evening were as follows:

Warren, Pa.—River two-tenths of a foot below zero; weather clear and cool. Oil City, Pa.—River 1 inch and ris-ing; weather cloudy and threatening Morgantown, W. Va.—River 4 feet and stationary; rain fell all last night and this morning; passed up and down, the Adam Jacobs.

MAN OR WOMAN?

A Wedding at Toronto Causes a Big Sansa-

Toronto, up the river, has a big social ensation, similar to one in the Eastern Pan Handle several years ago.

Three years ago a supposed young lady came to Toronto, giving the name of Sallie Stringer and representing a Steubenville music house. Some months sgo another girl named Mary Brinkman came from Columbus, where she had been nurse in a hospital. The two became intimate, and on Monday a marriage license was issued to Augustus Cothon to marry Mary Brinkman, both of Toronto, and the ceremony was performed an hour later by Justica Whitcomb, of Empire. Cothon and "Sallie" were one and the same person.

The affair naturally created a sensa-tion, and the citizens were very indig-nant. Finally "Sallie" consented to an examination by a physician, and the doctor said she was a woman. The marriage, therefore, is null and void.

A DESPERATE FIGHT Botween Train Robbers and Officials—One Indian Killed.

MIDVALE, MONT., Oct. 4.-A fight has taken place between train robbers and officers, in which one on each side has been killed. Another fight is in prospect. The news is brought here by United States Marshal Jackson, who United States Marshal Jackson, who arrived late last night. The fight was with the train robbers who held up the Northern Pacific train near Livingston, August 25. Jackson trailed the men from Livingston, locating them when reaching the Blackfoot Indian agency to-day. Two Indian scouts went out that night and located the robbers, four number, about two miles from this in number, about two miles from this in number, about two miles from this place.

The deputy then sent out to the agency and secured details of the Indian police under command of Little Dog. They came in sight of the cabin about nine in the morning. Jackson and his men made a rush, and as soon as the robbers saw them, the officers commanded hands up, but the robbers dedged into the cabin and the officers opened fire. The robbers returned the fire, killing Henry Schuber, a Blackfoot, who had also gone with the searching party. The Indian police then got seared and deserted the deputy, who, if his men had stayed with him he could have captured the robbers. Deputy Jackson brought the dead man in here. It is thought that one of the robbers is Jackson brought the dead man in here. It is thought that one of the robbers is either dead or badly wounded.

Sheriff Cartis, of Helena, arrived here with Captain Cook, from the Blackfoot Agency, with fifteen mounted Indian police. Sheriff Granger, of Kalispell, arrived here at 9 n. m. with a posse of eighteen men. Every trail is guarded and the hills will be scoured. This station is right at the summit of this station is right at the summit of the Rocky mountains, and there are but few trails, so the robbers will be caught or killed.
